A plump hand is a good sign in one's girl friend. It is a sign of good nature. Limp, floppy hands denote indolence, but a firm grasp is only given by one who is industrious.

When Caesar Took a Bath

it was a great social event in the Roman court. A multitude of servants busied themselves preparing the bath.

Great lounging rooms were provided for the bathers. The Romans believed in comfort, and bathing in Caesar's day had advanced to a high degree.

Bathing, today, has advanced to a still higher plane. Modern water heating appliances heat the water to the desired temperature. Bathtubs are installed in the up-to-date homes. America has given the bathtub to the civilized world and Americans realize the importance of a "Bath in Every Home."

Let us advise with you about providing your home with complete modern equipment for bathing. Our recent price reductions have made the cost amazingly reasonable.
